EARN A MASTER OF
EDUCATION IN CURRICULUM
AND INSTRUCTION

WHO SHOULD APPLY

This program is designed for the student who

- Needs an additional credential for position or salary enhancements
- Is a certified teacher and wishes to earn a master's degree
- Needs a credential to conduct adult and continuing education

The Master of Education degree program in curriculum and instruction is designed to meet the growing national need for highly qualified teachers at all classroom levels. Courses include advanced studies in research-based practices for teaching and learning, curriculum design, assessment, and program improvement. The program does not lead to teaching certification.

The Ohio Valley University M.Ed. Program has several key benefits for the student:

- 16-Month Completion Schedule
- Flexible Online Format
- Highly Skilled Faculty
- Small Cohort Size
- Competitive Pricing

All students will be trained in Ohio Valley University's easy-to-use collaborative, online learning environment. This approach helps the student learn but also provides a high degree of interactivity with fellow students and professors.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

The School of Graduate Education encourages prospective students from a wide range of academic interests and backgrounds to apply. The following minimum qualifications must be met to gain entry into a program of study:

- 1) A bachelor's degree or higher from an accredited institution, with at least a 2.5 GPA
- 2) An application packet containing the following documents:
 - a) Application for Graduate Admission accompanied by a $30 application fee (download application at www.ovu.edu/SchoolofGradEd)
 - b) Official transcripts from all previous institutions (These may come directly from the institutions to the OVU registrar or, if in an envelope sealed by the institution, included in the packet.)
 - c) An essay of one to two pages addressing how this degree will further your career and how you prefer to complete the degree program (part-time or full-time, online or face-to-face, continual semesters or summers only, etc.)
 - d) Two letters of recommendation that address your capacity to complete the program effectively and to use the additional knowledge to benefit yourself and others (These may come from instructors, co-workers, employers, or clergy, and they should have the authors' signatures across the flap of the envelope.)

All materials should be sent to:
